Course Overview

This course is ideal for people who are new to farm work or those looking to take their first steps into the agricultural industry — whether it's a short-term job, seasonal work, or the start of a long-term career. It provides the essential knowledge and practical skills needed to find, apply for, and start a farm job with confidence.

Farm employers are looking for people who are reliable, willing to learn, and show a good attitude. This course will guide you through what they value most, how to present yourself professionally, and what to expect when you begin work on a farm.

In this course, you will explore the basics of applying for farm work, preparing for interviews, understanding your workplace rights, and making a strong first impression on the job.

This course is ideal for:

- School leavers looking for work in agriculture
- Anyone applying for their first job on a farm
- People wanting to understand what employers are really looking for in a worker
- Jobseekers needing help with CVs, interviews, and starting strong on day one

How to Get a Job in Agriculture Course
